

The Philosophy Department at the University of Kentucky and the Departments of Philosophy and Classics at Transylvania University are pleased to announce the

Lexington Workshop in Ancient Philosophy

March 21–22, 2014

University of Kentucky and
Transylvania University

Sponsored by the University of Kentucky Philosophy Department and College of Arts & Sciences, and by the Transylvania University Classics, Philosophy and Religion Departments with additional support from Brenda and Chauncey Curtz. Sessions will be held on the campuses of the University of Kentucky and Transylvania University. Additional information can be found at www.ancient-philosophy-conference.com.

TRANSYLVANIA
UNIVERSITY

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY®

AS
COLLEGE OF ARTS
& SCIENCES

Brenda and Chauncey Curtz

---

Lexington Area

Workshop in Ancient Philosophy

---

MARCH 21, 2014

Hilary J. Boone Center,
University of Kentucky

FIRST LADY'S ROOM

- 9:00–9:25 Breakfast and Opening Remarks
Eric Sanday, University of Kentucky
- 9:30–10:20 Gina Zavota (Kent State University),
“Gates of Night and Day”
Michael O. Wiitala (University of Kentucky)
- 10:30–11:20 George Harvey (Indiana University Southeast),
“Myths of Cronus in Plato’s Statesman and Laws”
Paul DiRado (University of Kentucky)
- 11:30–12:20 Cristina Ionescu (Catholic University of America),
“Cosmic Myth and Dialectical Method in Plato’s
Statesman”
Simon Noriega-Olmos (University of São Paulo)
- 12:20-1:30 Lunch at Hilary J. Boone Center
- 1:30-2:20 Thomas Miller (Princeton University),
“Plato and the Corporeal Soul”
Samuel Baker (University of California, Los Angeles)
- 2:30-3:20 Mark Johnstone (McMaster University), “Tyrannized
Souls: Plato’s Depiction of the Tyrannical Man”
Jonathan Nelson (Saint Louis University)
- 3:20-3:40 Break

---

Lexington Area

Workshop in Ancient Philosophy

---

- 3:40–4:30      Glenn Lesses (College of Charleston), “Socrates the Stoic: Agency & Rational erōs in the Symposium”
Whitney Schwab (University of Maryland, Baltimore County)
- 4:40–5:30      Max Robitzsch (University of Pennsylvania), “Would the Epicurean Sage violate a law if she knew that she could escape detection?”
Daniel Sheffler (University of Kentucky)

Dinner at Panda Cuisine

MARCH 22, 2014
Transylvania University
Graham Cottage

- 9:00              Breakfast
- 9:30–10:20      Serena Lai (University of Georgia), “Between Mechanism and Teleology in Meteorology I-III”
Joe Bullock (University of Texas, Austin)
- 10:30–11:20     Eve Rabinoff (Boston University),
“Aristotle on the Intelligibility of Perception”
Eva Cadavid (Centre College)
- 11:30–12:20     Jonathan Buttaci (University of Pittsburgh),
“What Does Active Noûs Activate?”
Jonathan Sands Wise (Georgetown College)
- 12:20–1:30      Lunch at Graham Cottage

---

Lexington Area

Workshop in Ancient Philosophy

---

- 1:30–2:20 Jerry Green (University of Texas, Austin), “Self-Sufficiency and Friendship in the Aristotelian Ethics”
Dhananjay Jagannathan (University of Chicago)
- 2:30–3:20 Stephen White (University of Texas, Austin), “Eudaimonia Revisited: Functional Equivalence
and Superlative Goodness in NE 10.7”
Lawrence Jost (University of Cincinnati)
- 3:30–4:20 Richard Hutchins (Princeton University), “Violence and Blame in the State of Nature: De rerum natura 5.195-199 & 5.988-998”
David Kaufman (Transylvania University)
- 4:20–4:40 Break
- KEYNOTE
- 4:40–6:15 Gabriel Richardson Lear (University of Chicago),
“Aristotle on Happiness and Long Life”
- Dinner at Graham Cottage